RÉSUMÉ OF LATE FASHIONS PREPARED ESPECIALLY FOR ARMY AND NAVY WOMEN.

If you are planning a gown for the Christmas holidays which you can wear all day and any day, and even after the lights are lit, why not follow Mabel Normand's example and pattern yours after the one Harry Collins made her of Suzanne crepe?

If you would bring the flush of delight to the cheeks of a fastidious woman on Christmas morning you will tip Santy off to a huge feather fan in brilliant colorings to contrast with the draped opera gown of cloth of gold as Yvonne Routon is showing you.

Would you run into town for a shopping fest, luncheon at the Ritz to be followed by a concert, with dinner and the theatre as a wind-up to a perfect day, you will find your truest clothes ally in this klo-ka gown which Madame Bailey has draped with novelty ribbon.

Photo Tornello

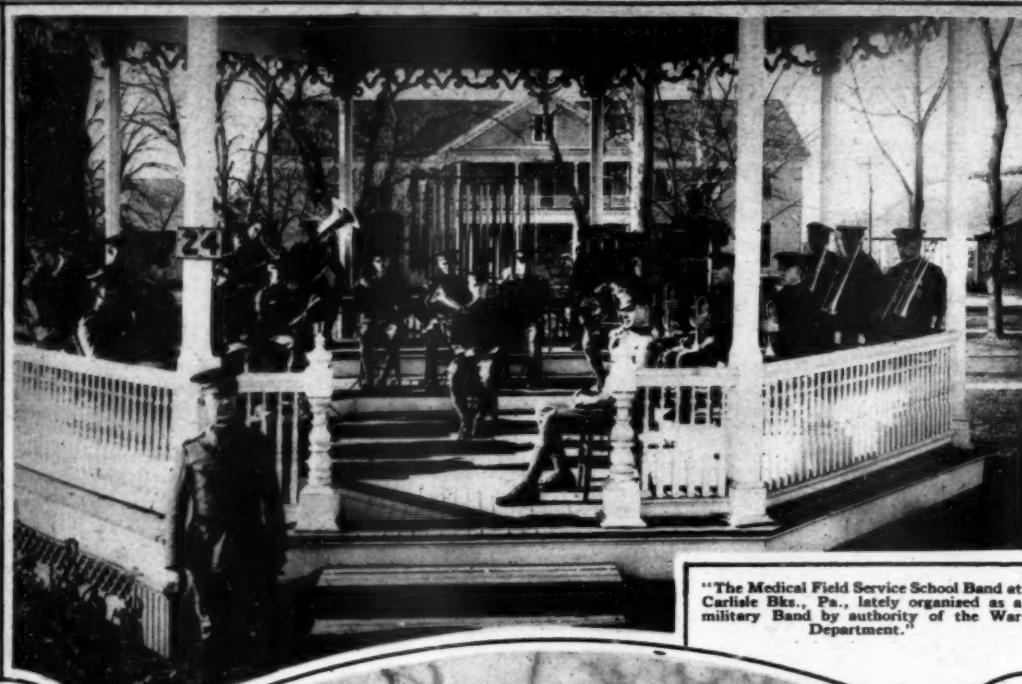

It's such a simple matter to add a good-looking ribbon girdle to one's pussy willow crepe gown that it is not surprising that so many women are planning to make them as Christmas gifts.

One of the most acceptable of Christmas gifts is the sweater, for no girl can ever have too many, and when the Shoreham model is selected and you have knit happiness and good cheer into every Fleisher silkenwool yarp, you will have placed your offering at the head of the list.

Mme. Crone, member of the Fashion Art League of America, used Burgundy Challain for this striking street costume and trims it with cut-out tapestry ribbon and fur.
